

NutriSoil impresses farmers at field days

By Rachelle Maddock

IF you have had time to get out to the major field days this Spring, you are likely to have come across brother's Graham and Max Maddock who have been at Henty, Poowong and are pictured here at Elmore.

The brothers say they are finding it easier than ever to talk to farmers about trialing their all-natural fertiliser product, as more farmers are becoming aware of the need to reduce chemical inputs into the land and bring back natural balance to their soils.

NutriSoil LS (liquid spray) is a broad-spectrum natural fertiliser made from a commercial vermiculture (worm) system that is selectively fed high levels of organic nutrient blends from animal, plant and ocean sources.

It is a rich concentrate in the form of a liquid spray making it very cost effective and easy to use.

NutriSoil is the natural answer for farmers concerned about the impact of misuse and overuse of chemical fertilisers on the land, offering them peace of mind to carry on responsible land management whilst maintaining competitively high yields.
