

Assessing farm fertility products...

Use this sheet to assess any conventional, new or alternative products you may encounter on your journey through the fertiliser and biological jungle....

Name of the product:

Type of farm fertility input product is it?

* Mineral Fertiliser
fertiliser

* Biofertiliser

* Transition Fertiliser

* Soluble

* Bio-inoculant

* Bio-stimulant

* Combination Product

* Soil Amendment

What is this product supposed to do?

1. Supply quick nutrients
2. Supply steady nutrients
3. Build long term soil chemical fertility
4. Enhance plant function
5. Add organisms to the soil or plants
6. Enhance biological processes in the soil
7. Improve soil structure or chemical constraints

When would be the best time to apply this product?

Is this product best used in high, medium or low biological fertility situations?

What equipment do I need to use this product?

Are there compatibility issues with other products I may use?

What are the handling issues that the product may have?

What is your opinion on the quality and reliability of this product?

Is it value for money?

Is this product a proven technology or still a new technology?

Does this product have a high level of scientific understanding behind it?